Podium for Danny Hart

World Cup UCI – Mt Saint Anne - Canada

Greg Doucende, after his victory in les 2 Alpes, continues his training in France for the next Saab Salomon Avalanche Trophy, David Vazquez stays in Europe to recover completely his “power”...

And Danny Hart, the young rider of the team, was this week end in Mt Saint Anne, for his first world Cup in “Caribou’s Land”.

Track is so technical, so long (more than 4’30), and weather condition are so bad, again!

But it’s not a problem for Danny. In the first round, he finishes 2nd in Junior class, and 32nd at scratch.

He’s also again the only first year junior to be qualified in the final (Top 80 riders).

In final, Danny ride smooth and try to keep clean lines. But the track is hard, and he cannot catch the first, Joch Bryceland (the Junior World Champion).

With this 2nd place, he takes the 2nd place at World Cup UCI overall, and he’s only 16th!!!
